

AFU Celebrates #Innovation Month

Al Falah University students launched an innovation exhibition in celebration of #Innovation Month under the guidance of the Deanship of Student Affairs and the General Education Department.

President Abdelhafid Belarbi, AFU President, said that the university's educational environment strives to foster innovation and to explore various resources available to support student innovators. He also added that AFU upholds UAE Innovation Month's ideas and encourages students to present and develop their ideas.

The exhibition presented the students' projects for implementation and sponsorship by both governmental and private institutions.
