

Al Falah University Students on an Educational Visit to Spain

The College of Business Administration organized an educational visit to Kingdom of Spain to meet the requirements of field training for students of Tourism and Events Management. The delegation included a group of college students headed by Dr. Ashraf Jahmani. They visited the headquarters of the World Tourism Organization of the United Nations "UNWTO" and the headquarters of Amadeus company "Amadeus" in the country's capital of Madrid. The delegation also visited the city's important landmarks for the students to learn the role of UNWTO in the global tourism industry.

The students also attended international events held in the city of Barcelona. The educational visit provided the students with hands on experience with regards to all factors that affect the tourism sector.

Towards the end of the visit, the students expressed their appreciation for the efforts exerted by the University to organize an educational trip to help them associate theoretical knowledge they have learned inside their classrooms to practical applications.

Categories:

Community Engagement

University News